Overview

Kent College is beautifully located in the countryside of the English county of Kent only an hour from central London. The boarding school believes in providing a wide range of experiences within a single sex environment to ensure young women grow outside of the classroom. The school has a Christian foundation however it is today an interdenominational Christian school welcoming girls of all faiths and backgrounds.

The main school building is an elegant Victorian era manor house which is used for offices and boarding but the school also has modern purpose-built facilities which include an excellent sports hall, theatre, music school, language laboratories, Sixth Form Centre, an indoor heated swimming pool and new science laboratories.

Kent College also has 3 separate academies which is a testament to the diversity and commitment put into the students education and opportunities by the school, there is a Theatre Academy for those students who are interested in Performing Arts, a Gymnastics Academy which has competed successfully in local competitions and also a swimming academy.

Kent College can boast an excellent examination pass rate of which any school would be proud, with 100% pass rate at GCSE and A-level, and academic standards that are consistently high.

Careers education is available throughout the senior school. There are individual interviews, aptitude tests, visits to careers conferences and university open days, and a work experience scheme help students make informed choices. There is a well-stocked careers library and computer resources with wide range of information on careers and higher education.

Professional qualified careers staff are always available to offer advice at any stage and academically able students are prepared for admission to Oxford and Cambridge.
